CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

The BRAZILIAN JOURNAL OF LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES, published by the University of São Paulo, is receiving new submissions. Authors can submit papers and book reviews proposals that will be published in the issues 50, 51, or 52 between December 2024 and June 2025. BJLAS is also accepting Dossier proposals, which can be published after May 2025, if it is approved.

Note: The BJLAS accepts Interviews, Master Conferences transcripts, and academic-scientific writings that will be approved by the Editorial Committee.

BJLAS’S SCOPE

The BJLAS publishes articles on Latin American & Caribbean subjects. As such, the proposals should include themes of regional impact or manuscripts comparing two or more countries. Manuscripts must significantly contribute to scientific knowledge advancement in topics related to the region, and for this reason, authors must be researchers current obtaining or already obtained a master’s or a Ph.D. degree.

Submissions can be in English, Spanish, and/or Portuguese.

PAPERS | BOOK REVIEWS

Papers within BJLAS scope must be submitted through the Journal website: http://www.revistas.usp.br/prolam. The texts, including Conference transcripts and Interviews, must have between fifteen and seventeen pages, including bibliographical references.

Dossier’s proposals must have at least ten articles and one book review. Thematic proposals for Dossiers must be approved by the Editorial Committee.
